

FILIPINOS URGED TO KEEP UP FIGHT

Letters of High Authority Captured.

SAY EUROPEAN RECOGNITION WILL BE GRANTED.

Leaders Also Claim That the Present United States Authority Will Be Overthrown—No Fighting at San Fernando Up to Noon Today—Troops Under MacArthur Resting at Calulut—Gunboats Shell San Fernando de La Union Causing Extensive Damage—Rebels Reply But Were Finally Driven Off.

Washington, Aug. 10.—[Special]—Gen. Otis wired this morning: "The Sheridan should leave Manila this evening."

Last week Otis wired that the Minnesota and South Dakota volunteers were loading on the transport Sheridan.

Urged to Hold Out Longer

Washington, Aug. 10.—[Special]—The following was received from Gen. Otis this afternoon: "We have captured letters of high insurgent authority exhorting the inhabitants to hold out a little longer; that European recognition would be granted by August 31, and that the present United States authority would be overthrown."

Five Killed; Twenty-Five Wounded
Washington, Aug. 10.—[Special]—Gen. Otis cabled this morning that five were killed and twenty-five wounded in yesterday's battle.

Shelled San Fernando de La Union.

Manila, Aug. 10.—[Special]—There was no fighting north of San Fernando up to noon today.

The troops under MacArthur are resting at Calulut, where General Wheaton is reconnoitering.

Several gunboats shelled San Fernando de La Union, causing extensive damage. The insurgents replied with their musketry and two cannons, but were finally driven off.

DETAILS OF YESTERDAY'S FIGHT

Movement of MacArthur's Troops Was Very Successful.

Washington, Aug. 10.—[Special]—A cablegram from Gen. Otis gives further details of MacArthur's movement near San Fernando yesterday and says:

"MacArthur's movement yesterday was very successful and serves to clear the country to the rear and the left and right of insurgents. He has advanced north to Calulut, six miles from San Fernando, whence he is now reconnoitering. His casualties were five killed and twenty-nine wounded. The officers wounded were Major Braden, Captain Abernethy, of the Thirty-Sixth volunteers, leg and arm, moderate; Lieut. Williams of the Fifty-First Iowa, thigh, moderate. Those troops operated to the left and rear toward Santi Spiriti. MacArthur's advance under Wheaton and Liscum consists of the Ninth, Twelfth, Seventeenth and a part of the Twenty-Second, regular regiments, and a portion of the Fifty-First Iowa. The movement was very difficult on account of mud and surface water. MacArthur reports insurgents' loss was one hundred killed and some three hundred wounded. They were rapidly driven northward and last night they had apparently abandoned Poracine, where they blew up the powder works.

Manila, Aug. 10.—Details of Gen. MacArthur's advance beyond San Fernando showed that the Americans covered five miles the first five hours and at 2 o'clock had advanced six miles along the railway, stretching on each side of it for two miles, and resting at night three miles from Angeles, which will be made the northern base of operations instead of San Fernando, where a garrison of 600 men has been left.

The American loss is known to be eight men killed and twenty-five wounded. The loss may possibly exceed these figures, as the line is five miles long and it is impossible at this hour to hear from every point.

Our troops are now about Angeles waiting for the artillery, which has the greatest difficulty in moving, owing to the wet ground.

The attack opened at 5 o'clock in the morning, a battery of the First artillery shelling Bacolor on the left. Simultaneously Bell's Thirty-sixth infantry struck Bacolor from the rear and drove the rebels out.

Armored Cars Used.

Armored cars, each with a six-pounder and two Gatling revolving cannon on board, were then mounted on the railroad track in the center of our lines. Soon afterward these guns did sharp execution.

Battery M of the Third artillery and a hundred men of the Iowa regiment made a feint toward Mexico, while the main body of troops, consisting of the Iowa regiment, the Seventeenth regiment and a battalion of the Twenty-second, under Gen. Wheaton, on the right, and the Ninth regiment, Twelfth regiment and Bell's regiment, under Gen. Liscum, on the left, advanced steadily, pouring their fire into the rebels and receiving heavy fire in return.

The rebels were well protected by trenches and seemed not to lack ammunition. But they were unable to withstand for any length of time the hail of shots our artillery and infantry poured in on them, and retreated, leaving their dead and wounded on the field. A dozen prisoners were captured by our troops.

The reports indicate that the Ninth infantry suffered the most, though the casualties of all the regiments are not yet reported.

The weather was extremely hot and our troops suffered greatly. But there was no faltering.

A company of the Sixteenth regiment has gone to the relief of Bell's regiment. According to reports, Bell, out of a total of 192, has had many wounded sent in, and the insurgents are harassing him in the rear.

The firing, except at isolated points, had ceased by 10 o'clock.

Surprise for the Rebels.

The Filipinos were surprised, expecting the American forces to move against Tico. They followed their usual tactics of holding their trenches until they became too warm, and then retreating in disorder. They are now falling back westward toward Porac.

The Twelfth and Seventeenth regiments had the sharpest engagements.

The country our troops passed over is covered with rice fields and bamboo thickets, the hardest possible ground for marching. The mud in places was knee deep.

Angeles is one of the richest towns north of Manila, and is considered to be a better base of operations than San Fernando.

The forces at San Fernando consisted of the Iowa regiment, the Seventeenth regiment, the Ninth regiment, the Twelfth regiment, a battalion of the Sixteenth regiment, troop E of the Fourth cavalry and fifteen guns.

The movement had been planned for some time, but was delayed by rains. Finally two days of sunshine dried the rice fields sufficiently to permit of the attempt.

The Americans' position had long been unpleasant. The rebels almost surrounded the town, and fired nearly nightly into it, the Americans not replying except on extreme provocation. It was necessary to keep 600 to 600 men on outpost duty constantly.

Reports from rebel sources say 150 Filipinos were killed in Gen. Hall's engagement at Calamba and in the subsequent skirmishes.

ROOT IS TO CONSULT GEN. MILES.

Decide as to a Change in Commanders in the Philippines.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Both President McKinley and Secretary Root are highly gratified at the quickness with which the ten volunteer regiments are being recruited and made ready for service. Both believe that ten more regiments could be raised just as quickly if needed for service in the Philippines, and they will not hesitate to call for them if deemed advisable.

As to whether Gen. Otis is to be relieved of the command at Manila the president has nothing to say at the present time. The matter, of course, was talked over at the conference between him and Secretary Root, but as Secretary Root has not yet discussed the matter with Gen. Miles he had nothing to say on the subject while here.

In all probability the question of who is to command the forces in the Philippines will be settled definitely before next Saturday. If Otis is to be continued he will be so informed at once, and if he is to be succeeded by Gen. Merritt, Gen. MacArthur or by Gen. Miles himself, that also will be settled immediately. As soon as Secretary Root and Gen. Miles have conferred on the subject a decision will be arrived at.

Lawton Is Overruled.

Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 10.—Corporal W. J. Logan, a signal officer, who has just returned from service in the Philippines with a Wisconsin regiment, says that the American generals there find fault with Gen. Otis for his management of the campaign. He says that after a town has been captured the troops pass on and then the natives return. Gen. Otis, he says, claims that his force is insufficient to hold the towns, while Gen. Lawton declares that a proper use of the troops would allow the towns to be garrisoned.

Minnesotans Soon to Leave.

St. Paul, Aug. 10.—Gov. Lind has received the following cablegram from Lieut.-Col. Friedrich, in command of the Thirtieth Minnesota at Manila: "Regiment starts for home on the steamer Sheridan about the 11th. Loading today."

It is expected the regiment will reach San Francisco about Sept. 10 and home Oct. 1.

War Plans Please McKinley.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 10.—President McKinley had nothing to add to the statement made by Secretary of War Root in regard to the campaign in the Philippines. President McKinley and Secretary Root are both greatly pleased at the rapidity with which the ten new volunteer regiments are being recruited, organized and made ready for active service.

Only a few hammocks left. They all go at 50c off regular prices. Sanborn.

The total damage in the city is estimated at $500,000.

The hurricane swept the entire breadth of the island. The town is without communications. The loss of life is probably large.

Hurricane Is Still Raging.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 10.—Only the edge of the hurricane which did so great damage in St. Croix passed over St. Thomas, and no great damage was done, save to the wharves. No life was lost.

To Breed Reindeer for the Market.

Washington Special Chicago Journal: A company has been formed in Eastern Norway for the breeding of reindeer in large numbers. The company has already purchased 2,400 deer, paying $7,500 for them, and intends to rapidly increase the herd to 4,000. When this number has been reached it will be possible to kill 1,000 a year without diminishing the total. The carcass of the reindeer will bring about $7.50, and the meat is in demand all over France, Germany and Belgium. In order to prevent the glutting of the market during the winter season a cannery factory has been started in connection with the farm. The company has bought about sixty square miles of wild mountain land, and is figuring upon becoming very rich within a comparatively short time. The company is located at Telemarken, and Nils Bohnen, one of the teachers of the People's High School, is at the head of it.

Simple Photography.

A Houlton (Maine) man recently took a very good photograph with a simple pasteboard box and a dry plate. An aperture was cut in the box, over which was pasted a piece of black paper, in which a small hole was made with the point of a pin. The box was then taken into a dark room and the plate securely fastened inside. The plate was exposed for one minute and a half, and the result was very satisfactory.

LIGHTNING KILLS TWO FARMER'S SONS

A SAD FATALITY NEAR CAMP DOUGLAS.

Mother is Perhaps Fatally Injured—Mauston Man Seriously Hurt By an Explosion—Sparta Man Fired at by House-Breakers—Interesting News From Badgerdom.

Camp Douglas, Wis., Aug. 10.—During the storm yesterday morning lightning struck the barn of Englebert Jersey, about six miles from this place, instantly killing the two sons and injuring, fatally perhaps, the wife of the owner. The family had arisen early so as to get in the last of the oats before the rain that was threatening, and had hauled the last load into the barn when the crash came. It had rained considerably while the men were working, and Mrs. Jersey had brought out some dry clothing for the men. Mr. Jersey was unhitching the team and his wife stood at the rear of the wagon between the two boys, holding a blanket to shield them from the draught. The father scarcely felt the shock and the horses sustained no injuries. The bodies of the boys were fearfully burned, as was the chest and one limb of the mother. The boys, Englebert and Vincent, were 16 and 22 years of age, respectively.

Her daughter, however, does not agree in this opinion, and thinks that her mother has been persuaded by others into this belief. Mrs. Dempsey will go to Chicago to make further inquiries concerning the body.

GRAIN YIELD DISAPPOINTING.

Railway Agents Report Conditions in Nebraska, Iowa and Dakota.

Sioux City, Iowa, Aug. 10.—Reports received from the agents of the Sioux City & Western railway indicate that small grain in Nebraska as far west as O'Neill will all have been harvested by the end of the week, but the yield in northwest Iowa, southern South Dakota and Nebraska will be less than has been previously estimated. The grain is found to be small and shriveled, and although hard and of a quality to grade No. 2 wheat, will not run above fourteen bushels to the acre in many localities where twenty bushels had been expected. Oats will not run above thirty bushels to the acre.

Recent rains have retarded harvesting, and hot winds which preceded them did almost as much damage as hailstorms which visited some sections, particularly Plymouth county, Iowa, where $75,000 of damage by hail is reported. Corn has benefited by the rains, but the crop will be far from satisfactory.

Cloudburst Does Much Damage.

All telegraph and telephone lines are down, and it is impossible to get the extent of the losses. Farmers lost considerable stock by drowning. No loss of life is reported. The rain throughout southern Indiana was the most severe in many years, and reports of heavy losses come from nearly every county in the "pocket."

The Tomato as a Tonic.

Dr. True's investigations have led him to adopt the juice of the tomato in cases in which the blood needs toning up. The United States government and the German government have also made experiments, and many facts of interest have been discovered. During the recent war with Spain the juice of the tomato was utilized extensively as a health preservative among certain bodies of troops, with results which were eminently satisfactory.

Several attempts to tow the Saturnus off were unsuccessful. The Pampana then left San Fernando in search of further assistance, whereupon the insurgents returned and set fire to the vessel. LETTER RECEIVED FROM GAY "PAREE"

WILL W. WATT WRITES OF HIS VOYAGE.

Touring Europe With Joseph A. Van Kirk—Reports a Pleasant and Eventful Journey Across the Atlantic on the Steamer St. Paul—They Have "Smooth Sailing."

William W. Watt and Joseph A. Van Kirk, of this city, who sailed for Europe from New York on July 19 arrived at Southampton, England, on the afternoon, of July 26. Mr. Watt writes as follows:

For one who has never crossed the ocean a seven day trip aboard an ocean liner is an interesting experience. Afloat the Atlantic liner St. Paul of the American line we left New York at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 19. Strange as it may seem, these ocean liners leave on schedule time the same as railroad trains, and fifteen minutes before sailing the bugle sounds and all persons not to take the voyage are ordered ashore. At the last minute friends arrive with large floral pieces for parting ones and so numerous were these offerings on the departure of the St. Paul that one could not help but think that the trip meant several first class funerals.

At 9:45 o'clock, Captain Jamieson stood on the bridge with watch in hand and when the hour of 10 arrived he gave the signal and the gong ways were pulled in and the floating palace slowly found its way into mid stream aided by two tugs. In less than two hours time we were out of sight of land and steaming towards England at the rate of 19 miles an hour.

Five thousand people were on the docks to bid us bon voyage.

In the first cabin were 500 passengers and in the second cabin 300 found accommodation. The steerage was only partly filled, putting the aggregate of passengers, including steerage at 1,000. The persons actually employed on the St. Paul number 500. Every stateroom in the first and second cabin was engaged weeks before sailing and ship officers say that ocean travel this year is the largest known in years. Breakfast is served from 8 to 10 in the first and second cabins and luncheon at 1, and dinner at 6:30. Between meals broth and crackers are served on deck so that one never needs to go hungry. Prior to the noon luncheon hour you apply to the head dining room steward and he assigns you to your table seat and this you retain through the entire trip. Gentlemen attired in full dress wait on the tables, there being no women employed in the dining saloon. At night you retire when you please.

Care of the Passengers.

To care for 1,500 persons on a seven-day trip requires a fortune estimated at $50,000 which is for the single trip. Servants aboard are most faithful for they are all looking for tips from early morn until late at night. Dining room stewards are paid twenty dollars a month and their board and at the end of a trip expect a $2.50 fee from each passenger. Bedroom stewards look for the same. After this comes the bathroom steward, the bootblack and the deckroom steward, all looking for fees. To travel first class one should figure on parting with at least $10 in fees for the single trip. You should rent a steamer chair which is fifty cents for the seven days. Steamer rugs are not a necessity. The bill of fare is most elaborate, and no hotel cares for its guests in better style. Away down in the bottom of the ship, the chief steward has in charge tons of provisions stored in refrigerators. Meat sufficient to stock a dozen meat markets, was taken aboard the day before sailing. Three thousand pounds of chicken may be added to this supply aside from seven hundred pounds of ducks and turkeys. Pigeons and squabs are kept in ice boxes, by the hundreds of dozens. Milk and cream to the extent of 2,500 quarts, is used on one of these trips. This milk and cream is all kept in ice cold rooms. This market in the bottom of the ship contains, besides the stores mentioned, a ton of fruit and green vegetables and an enormous stock of groceries. Cooking commences at 7 o'clock in the morning and is kept up till evening, for meals are innumerable. The head cook is king in his department. The kitchen equipment is most complete and contains every modern appliance. Different cooks supply each dish and with the baker is left the care of providing ten thousand loaves of bread which are used at one crossing. The pantry is a place that fairly glitters with silverware. Thousands of spoons, knives and forks are stowed in different drawers and in cabinets the large pieces of silver are kept. Thousands of plates, cups and saucers are used and in case of a rough voyage the company figure on a $200 loss by the breaking of dishes alone.

One physician is aboard to care for the passengers and the company stand this expense. His duty is to look after the steerage as well as the first cabin passengers. As our trip over was a smooth one, the physician had but little to do. In case of death, burial at sea is not compulsory, if friends insist that the body be embalmed and brought ashore. Burial at sea always takes place at midnight and unknown to the passenger if such a thing is possible.

Aboard our boat were several millionaires from New York. One gentleman had two dogs with him and they cost him $10 each for the trip besides a goodly sum for duty on his arrival in England. A Philadelphia lady had her favorite cat aboard, and for the pleasure of its company she paid $10. This high fee is charged in hopes of having these pets left behind. If no charge was made the boat would be fairly alive with these pets on every trip.

Sunday Aboard a Ship

Sunday aboard the ocean liner is a day to be remembered. In the first cabin saloon services are held at 10 o'clock in the morning, conducted by the purser. A large pipe organ furnishes music and is played by one of the dining saloon waiters. But few passengers failed to attend services. Several New Yorkers who played poker until 12 o'clock every night since the boat left, managed to be in seats nearest the purser for they seemed to think it a duty they owed to be on hand and pray for their safety. One gentleman afterwards informed me that this was the first church service that he had attended in five years. In the evening at 7 o'clock services are held in the second cabin. The steerage passengers observe the day by singing hymns. They have no regular service, unless there happens to be a clergyman in the steerage. First class guests pay from $60 to $500 a one way trip, according to the location of their stateroom. All have the same saloon accommodations. The bar on a boat like the St. Paul takes in a small fortune on a single trip. A printing office is also aboard and each day three different menus are printed as well as the wine lists and the programs for the various concerts. A concert always depends on the talent that are aboard. Our fifth night out, a concert was held, consisting of fourteen numbers, the greater portion being vocal solos. There was not a good number on the program, in spite of the fact that the concert netted $250, which sum goes to the sailors' relief fund.

The total value of an ocean liner of the first class is in the neighborhood of $3,000,000. The St. Paul and its sister ship the St. Louis, are 554 feet long and 63 feet wide, and each carry smoke stacks that would comfortably hold Captain Buchholz and his steamer Columbia. One hundred and thirty-five men are employed in the engine and fire rooms in the bottom of the boat, and each day three hundred tons of coal are consumed. To visit the engine rooms one must obtain permission of the head engineer and in case he grants your request you can consider yourself in luck as but few persons are allowed in this part of the boat on account of the great danger one goes through in passing so much moving machinery. Women are never allowed there unless dressed in men's clothes.

Dining Room Accommodations

There is but little difference between first and second cabin in dining room accommodation. Second cabin passengers are kept apart from the first cabin and at night occupy staterooms near the stern of the vessel, which are not so comfortable as first cabin rooms on account of being near the large screw wheels, which constantly cause the boat to rock. Steerage is not half as bad as the general public imagine. Here the men and women manage to cross the ocean for about $25. They are served three meals a day which are a refresh of what is left from the first and second cabins. The sleeping apartments are in the far end of the boat and are most uncomfortable. Each portion of the steerage is kept clean and a promenade deck the entire length of the boat running on both sides is at the disposal of the steerage passengers. At 9 o'clock all are ordered to bed.

All articles of value should be kept with the purser, as thieves aboard a boat is common. Before the boat left New York, thieves were at work stealing from the state room. For fifteen minutes before sailing, hundreds of friends are aboard, and the passengers are generally on deck to wave a parting salute, with little thought of articles of value in their state rooms. On the morning of the eighth day out we sighted land on the English coast, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon landed at Southampton.

CARKEEK WAS TOO MUCH FOR SCHOTT

DEFEATED WATERTOWN LAD
IN YESTERDAY'S BOUT.

Wrestling Match Was the Special Feature of the Scottish Games at the Fair Grounds—Bicycle Race and Other Contests Were Also Interesting—Dancing Enjoyed.

Although the attendance at the fourteenth annual Scottish games of the Rock County Caledonian society yesterday was not as large as in previous years, they were enjoyed just as much as ever. The crowd took a great interest in the amusements. The dancing and bag pipe playing of William Johnston and Fred Riddel and the dancing of Annie Taylor and Willie Dugal were greatly enjoyed.

The games resulted as follows, the contestants finishing in the order named:

200 yard race for boys under fifteen years—Will Conley, 1st, $3; Ray Brownell, 2d, $2; Channing Kent, 3d, $1.

Putting sixteen-pound stone—Dr. J. W. Frew, 1st, 44 feet 8 inches, $2; Ray Kershaw, 2d, 36 feet 2 inches, $1.50; H. Greeley Sloan, 3d, 35 feet 4 inches, $1. Barrel race—Frank Griffin, 1st, $2; Arthur Delaney, 2d, $1.50; Harry Gaffey, 3d, $1.

100 yard race, handicap—Grant Taylor, 1st, $2; Charles Tallman, 2d, $1.50; Harry Atwood, 3d, $1.

Running broad jump—W. H. Allen, 1st, 17 feet 10 inches, $2; Dr. J. W. Frew, 2d, 17 feet 6 inches, $1.50; W. J. Smart, 3d, 17 feet, 4 inches, $1.

Vaulting with pole—W. J. Smart, 1st, $2; Charles Tallman, 2nd, $1.50; Dr. J. W. Frew, 3rd, $1.

Throwing sixteen pound hammer—J. W. Frew, 1st, 94 feet 6 inches, $2; Ray Kershaw, 2d, 78 feet, $1.50; Robert Hoskins, 3rd, 65 feet, $1.

One mile bicycle race for ladies—Mrs. Cadman, 1st, $10; Minnie Kellogg, 2d, $5; Clara Kellogg, 3d, $3.

The feature of the day was the wrestling match between Jack Carkeek, champion Cornish wrestler of the world, and Rheinhold Schott of Watertown, champion of the northwest, catch-as-catch-can, for a purse of $100, going to the winner.

The Watertown man was no match for his opponent, but he made a good showing, nevertheless, and put up a good defense.

Carkeek won the first fall, but it took him four minutes and forty-five seconds to down the Watertown lad. Carkeek won the second fall in nine minutes and thirty seconds. Schott took the third fall, and Carkeek won the match by taking the fourth. Sheriff W. H. Appleby refereed the match in a manner that gave universal satisfaction.

The tug of war created great enthusiasm. The first pull was between a Milton team, captained by Charles Hallett, and a Janesville team, captained by Alvah Maxfield. It was a stubborn contest, and was finally won by Milton. The second pull was between a team from Whitewater, captained by David Zuili, and one from this city, captained by Alex. McBride. The Whitewater team came out victorious.

The winning teams, Whitewater and Milton, then pulled. The first prize, $30, went to Whitewater, and second, $15, to Milton.

M'QUEEN'S TALK WITH DEWEY

Pat in the Form of a Magazine Story With Little Delay

The most distinctively American publication upon the news stands this month is unquestionably the August number of The National Magazine. The large corps of young, bright and aggressive writers and talented artists have directed their utmost energies under the able guidance of the publisher to the end of producing a magazine that shall be in every respect typical of the American people in its scope.

A most notable achievement is the presentation in this number of the interview of their special staff correspondent, Peter MacQueen, with Admiral Dewey on board the flag-ship, Olympia, in Manila bay. The article and accompanying photographs were received after the entire magazine had been printed, but with the National's characteristic enterprise the utmost resources of the mechanical department were called into play, the article was rushed into type, the photographs were reproduced, and within a few hours the presses were turning out the added pages ready for the binders.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Which Is Better, Try An Experiment Or Profit by a Janesville Citizen's Advice?

Something new is an experiment. Must be proven to be as represented. Be successful at home or you doubt it.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of a friend is. Now, supposing you had a bad back. A lame weak or aching one. Would you experiment on it? You will hear of many so-called cures.

But they come from far away places. Its different when the endorsement comes from home. Easy to prove that it is so. Home endorsement is the proof that backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read this case: Mr. Samuel Griffin, of 203 Locust St., Journeyman carpenter, says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe some time ago, and as the result of this sickness a weakness of the kidneys set in. The secretions from those organs were greatly disordered, and annoying me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys were so strengthened that I could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years, and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about this result."

FOUND THE LEASE.

And the Poor Notary's Clerk Was Rewarded with a Box.
Paris Correspondence Chicago Record: At the gala night of the Comedie Francaise one of the most luxurious and prominent boxes was occupied by an ordinary notary's clerk, whose presence suggests an interesting story. Two months ago, when the historical society here was arranging its part in the Racine fete, it made up its mind to place a commemorative tablet on the house in Paris in which the poet had lived. But the name of the street and the numbers have been changed so often that there was great difficulty in deciding which house it was. Some descriptions of the place exist in letters of and about Racine, but they might have applied to two or three houses. A great dispute arose, and there seemed only one way of settling it. If the original lease, by which Racine held the house for so many years, could be found it might contain specifications too definite to admit of doubt. Did this lease exist? It should, for all such documents are finally filed in the notarial archives, of which there are twenty different branches in Paris. M. Claretie, director of the Theater Francaise, offered to the notary who would find the lease a first-class box for the evening of the Comedie's celebration and other newspaper honors dear to the Parisian heart. The result was that after a fortnight's hunting a very dust-be-grimed young man turned up at M. Claretie's office with the precious document gripped tightly in his hand. He was a notary's clerk who had been living for two weeks amid the documentary flotsam and jetsam of 200 years ago.

Sunday Baked Loaf.

A crusade has been started in London against the "Sunday baked loaf." It appears that there is an act of George IV. making it illegal to bake bread on Sunday in the city of London, though the fact has long been ignored. The question of Sunday baking is now to be taken up in parliament.

Buggy Tastes are Changing

The monotonous style of vehicle of a few years ago does not find place with the up-to-date buyer of today.

The demand for rigs of natty appearance increases each season. This year the swell turnouts combine comfort with style. The open runabout buggy with elliptic springs and rubber tires, or the top buggies with rubber tires, have a tendency to make the person who has no outfit a trifle envious. Handsome Buggies do not cost as much as you think for. Prices are reasonable and the rigs are the best.

WANTED, MEN

Where is the great army of the unemployed? Where are the thousands of men who are seeking for work and cannot find it?
From all over the country comes a Macedonian cry for men. The farmers of the great west are at their wits' end. They offer $2.50 a day and board for harvest hands, to say nothing of free railroad transportation thrown in, and yet cannot get the men they need.
The Pittsburg iron mills are advertising in vain for men. The manager of the Carnegie mills is quoted as saying that he could put a thousand more men at work if he could find them.
More men are wanted by the railroads, and sailors and steamboat hands on the great lakes.
From the cotton mills of New England to the wheat fields of the Red River valley the demand is greater than the supply. The man who wants to work today need not look long.
No better proof of the scarcity of men in the west could exist than the fact that all through Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota the sight of women at work in the harvest field is a common one. The towns and villages have been drained dry, as high as $2 a day being offered to mere boys, and the desperate farmers have been obliged to put their wives and daughters at work in the fields. Ever then grain is decaying for want of attention.—Chicago Tribune.

Five thousand Cuban soldiers gathered at Santiago to receive their pay, and turn over their arms. The Cubans have learned that Uncle Sam always keeps his promises, and there is little likelihood of trouble on the island in the future.

The poor houses in forty-five Kansas counties are empty, and in thirty-seven counties there is not a case on the criminal docket. "What's the matter with Kansas?"

An excitable correspondent writes a story to the effect that the River Thames is drying up. There is no indication, however, that the correspondent will do likewise.

Milwaukee's council has just ordered sixteen streets paved. Brick will be used on six of them, macadam on two, and asphalt on the other eight.

The Dreyfus case gives the cable companies a lot of profitable business, and costs the newspapers a pretty penny, but the people must live it.

Beloit has let a contract for the construction of three miles of sewers. The Line City is progressive, and no mistake.

Architect Taylor has now learned that half a dozen post offices could be well located in this excellent city.

The pharmacists were not pharmacists.

TINY CHURCHES.

The smallest church in England is in Lullington, Sussex. It is built of flint, with stone quoins, and has a red-tiled roof. The church is but sixteen feet square and five narrow windows light it. Thirty people—the size of the village—can find room within.

The church at Wythburn, Cumberland, is 39 by 15 feet and is 10 feet high. It was built 150 years ago and the windows are square holes.

At a village near Burnley is the tiny house of worship, the chapel, which is called the meeting house of the Friends' sect. It is covered with ivy, and contains but half a dozen benches and not more than half a dozen people attend.
A quaker meeting house still smaller is in Buckinghamshire. In June of each year a gathering of Friends occurs. William Penn is buried there, and Milton lived in the neighborhood when he wrote "Paradise Lost."

The lath-and-plaster church of Essex has been styled "the meanest church in Essex," owing to its diminutive size. It looks like the roadside cottages. The church of St. Peter at Cambridge is but 25 by 16 feet in size.

Population of Key West.

The island of Key West has 25,000 inhabitants on a surface of only 2,000 acres.

URNS IN GRANITE.

Scotch Residents of Barre, Vt., to Unveil a Unique Statue.

A beautiful and artistic statue of Robert Burns, carved out of solid granite, a stone seldom used for such purpose on account of its hardness, will be unveiled July 21 by the citizens of Barre, Vt.

Barre is thoroughly Scotch, a large proportion of its inhabitants having come from "the land of Bobbie Burns" to engage in the granite quarrying and carving industry. Several years ago the Burns club, composed of these Scotch residents, was organized. Some time ago the club decided to erect a monument to the memory of Burns on the High School green as a gift to the city.

By diligent toil the efforts of the Burns club are now crowned with complete success, for the monument is truly a work of art.

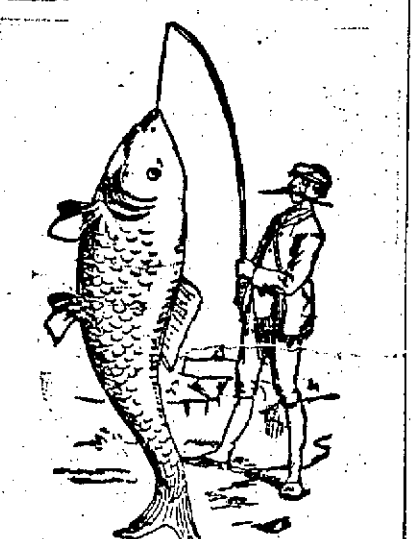

The whole is of Barre granite. The die is a masterpiece. The set pieces illustrate the poems of Burns. The panels were modeled by J. King of Milford, N. H., and sculptured by Eli Corti of Barre. At the top of the die there has been carved the rose, thistle and bluebells.

Surmounting the monument is a statue of Burns carved out of granite by Samuel Novelli of Barre. The statue was modeled by the celebrated sculptor, J. Massey Rhind of New York. It shows the people's bard in the role of a workman. The monument will stand 22 feet 2 inches by 8 feet square at the base.

On July 21 will come the unveiling of the monument. The day will be fittingly observed by Barre and its people. There will be a parade and speaking. The cost of the monument is about $10,000.

Already the fame of this work of art has reached other sections of the country. An effort has been made to have the monument placed in Philadelphia, while it has also been urged that the national capital city is the proper place for such work. It has also been suggested that it be sent to Paris as part of America's exhibit at the exposition. All these suggestions the Burns club has declined.

CLEVER LITTLE STORIES.

Apropos of the intolerable slowness of the cabs in Berlin, it is related that, a child having been run over by one of them and killed, Mark Twain, who was living in Berlin at the time, exclaimed on hearing of the accident: "What a lingering death!"

Cham (the French caricaturist) was talking one day with a Gascon, who bragged that his father's ancient baronial dining hall was the wonder of the world. It was so high you could hardly see the roof. "My father had a dining room," said Cham, "which was so low that the only fish we could serve at table was sole!"

The late John Holmes, younger brother of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, was also known among his intimates as a man of ready repartee and characteristic humor. Mr. Holmes never married, but lived by himself in a little house in Cambridge, and once a friend rallied him on his lonely life. "You ought to marry, John," said he, "and have a larger house." "Why, yes," replied Mr. Holmes, with a quiet smile; "if I should take a better half, I would have to improve my quarters."

Primitive Man.

Man's closest relative in the family of nature is the ape. This is a familiar fact. But it is not so generally known that man approaches in bodily conformation more and more nearly to his inferior relative the lower and lower his state of cultivation. Where and when was the line drawn? Quite recently some skulls and skeletons of races contemporary in France with the reindeer have been discovered, and they have afforded material for the above conclusion. The characteristics of the animal, the low forehead and the projecting mouth disappear in man's conflict with circumstances. Mental labor of course develops the brain, and the forehead becomes upright and the projecting countenance recedes under the skull. It is also the belief among scientists that the primeval Europeans were cannibals and inferior, in spite of their white skins, to the lowest type of existing savagery—the Australian bushman. All this chain of deductions and much more were recently made at a paleontological congress in Copenhagen.—New York Times

Height and Genius.

Here are a few statistics bearing on the question of height in its relation to genius: Tall men—Burke, 5 feet 10 inches; Burns, 5 feet 10 inches; Sir R. Burton, over 6 feet; Sir Walter Raleigh, 6 feet; Peter the Great, 6 feet 8 1/2 inches; Thackeray, 6 feet 4 inches; Lincoln, 6 feet 1 inch; George Washington, 6 feet 8 inches. Medium stature—Lord Beaconsfield, 5 feet 9 inches; Byron, 5 feet 8 1/2 inches; Voltaire, 5 feet 7 inches; Wellington, 5 feet 7 inches. Short men—Balzac, 5 feet 4 inches; Beethoven, 5 feet 4 inches; Keats, 5 feet; Napoleon, 5 feet 1 1/2 inches; Nelson, 5 feet 4 inches; De Quincey, 5 feet 5 inches.—Medical Record.

Some Encouragement.

Mrs. Darlington—John, I spoke to papa about having him take you into business, but he couldn't do it because you have too many vague ideas.

DRUGGISTS ELECT OFFICERS TODAY

BUSINESS MEETING HELD THIS MORNING.

Pharmaceutical Association Honors Chas. Spencer of Waupaca, By Electing Him President—E. B. Heimstreet Gets Second Place—Meet Next Year at Waupaca.

The second day's meeting of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Association was closed successfully by an enjoyable dancing party given by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary at Odd Fellows' hall last evening.

In spite of the excessive heat there was a good attendance of the druggists and their families and all had a most delightful time. Smith's orchestra furnished the music and there were games interspersed between the dances.

All the ladies of the Auxiliary that were present acted as a reception committee, and the floor managers were Ed. O. Smith, H. K. White, W. F. McOne and Harry Korner. The ladies desire to thank these gentlemen for so kindly assisting them.

After paying all the bills, a balance of thirty-five cents remained in the treasury, and was unanimously voted to purchase peanuts with the same.

At 9 o'clock this morning the business meeting, which was largely attended, was called to order by President Dadd. Reports of committees were read, after which the annual election of officers took place, and which resulted as follows:

President—Charles Spencer, Waupaca. Vice Presidents—E. B. Heimstreet, Janesville; J. H. Camps, Appleton. Secretary—Henry Rollman, Chilton. Treasurer—W. F. Clarke, Milton.

Then followed a spirited discussion as to the meeting place for next year. The choice lay between La Crosse and Waupaca and after considerable talk it was decided to meet at the latter place. A number of new members were elected and the meeting adjourned. The Ladies Auxiliary met and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Miss Martha James, Oshkosh. Vice President—Mrs. R. J. Washburn, Palmyra.

Secretary—Mrs. A. A. Woolhiser, South Wayne.

This afternoon the picnic and games of the druggists were held at Crystal Springs park and there was a large attendance. The members of the association met at the Grand Hotel at 1:30 o'clock and headed by the Imperial band marched to the steamboat dock where passage was taken for the park in both boats. The drug stores of the city were closed from 1 to 6 o'clock p. m. in order that all might join in the jollification and the afternoon was spent in contesting for the various prizes which had been donated.

The boats will return at 5 o'clock, giving time for supper. At 7:30 all will report at the Grand Hotel in costume and the procession will leave at 7:40 sharp, escorted by the two bands, and inspect the drug stores of the city. After this they will move to the I. O. O. F. hall on North Main street, where the prizes awarded during the week will be given out.

For the best costume (gent.) in parade, prize, one Parker Jointless Fountain pen, given by the Parker Pen Co., Janesville.

For the best costume (lady) in parade, prize, one pint No. 576 bottle perfume out glass stopper, name etched, given by Lazell, Dalley & Co., of New York.

For the most comical costume (gent.) prize, $5 assortment of aluminum combs, given by the Manitowoc aluminum Co. of Manitowoc.

For the most comical costume (lady) prize, a silver water pitcher, given by James Tufts, soda apparatus manufacturer, of Boston.

Peter Van Schnack & Sons offer as prize to the one (druggist or druggist's wife only) guessing the nearest to the number of sponges in a box to be shown at the convention hall, the box of sponges.

Picked Up Here and There
The most popular man in the eyes, or rather, mouth of the small boy, is the one who is distributing tickets entitling the holder to a free drink of "Coca Cola."

A clever and effective advertisement is a mammoth fac-simile of a cigar, which is carried about the streets on the shoulders of two men in white duck suits.

Chas. Baumbach & Co. of Milwaukee, have six representatives on the ground. The city belongs to the druggists and they have taken possession of it.

Thos. V. Wooten of Chicago, secretary of the National Association of Retail Druggists, is here.

A trick bicycle rider entertained the crowd in front of the Myers House yesterday noon. He was clever.

The morning trains today brought a number of druggists to the picnic. The drug stores of Beloit were closed this afternoon to allow the dealers and clerks to come up to the games.

Dr. Edward Kremers, Professor of Pharmacy at the University of Wisconsin, is in attendance at the meeting.

Senator and Assistant Postmaster C. Widule, of Milwaukee, is attending the convention. He is registered at the Myers.

L. F. Raeburn, manager of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Company, is in attendance.

GREEN CORN.—There are many people who find it impossible to eat green corn off the cob. In this emergency the cook cuts off the grains with a knife, which is not the best nor the most satisfactory way of doing. It is recommended that the corn be grated on the cob into a pan or plate. By this process all the sweet milk in the corn next the cob is secured and saved and makes a vast difference in the sweetness of the grain after it is cooked. Use the ordinary house hold grater.

THE Loan Band of the Congregational church, will hold their annual picnic at Miss Jennie Cleland's country home, on Friday, August 18th. All young ladies of the church are invited to meet with them. All intending to go will leave their names at the Janesville Clothing Co's store.

THE second game of the series between the Y. M. C. A. and Watertown teams will be played at Fort Atkinson tomorrow afternoon. Those desiring to go from Janesville can do so for eighty cents for the round trip, providing they leave their names at the Y. M. C. A. building.

THE good roads enthusiasts of Janesville were most conspicuous by their absence last evening. There was such a small attendance at the meeting announced to be held at the council chamber that the meeting was declared off. Miss Della C. Haber, who was to address the meeting, left this morning at 7 o'clock. She stated that arrangements for the proposed convention will be made by correspondence.

As a number have expressed a desire to go to Fort Atkinson tomorrow on the occasion of the Janesville-Watertown base ball game, arrangements have been made whereby all who send or telephone their names to the Y. M. C. A. building before 11 o'clock tomorrow morning can go at reduced rates. The fare for the round trip will be 80 cents and the train will leave over the Northwestern at 12:40 noon, reaching Janesville on the return trip at 7:45.

THE CLINTON RACES ATTRACTED A CROWD

HELD AT THE DRIVING PARK TUESDAY.

Janesville Sends a Delegation of One Hundred—A Fifth of Those Present—Committee Appointed to Raise Funds to Secure the Location of a Manufacturing Industry.

Clinton, Aug. 10.—The races held at the Clinton Driving Park on Tuesday of this week, attracted a good sized crowd, considering that it is a time when farmers generally are busy. Five hundred or more people were present. It is said that Janesville sent a delegation of one hundred. The races themselves were fairly good. The pacing race was pronounced the best of all, by those who witnessed the afternoon's sport. At a meeting of the business men of the village held recently, the following committee was elected to consider the matter of raising money to induce a Kenosha manufacturing company to locate here: Chairman, H. A. Moehlenpach; J. I. Kemmerer, Otto Derwald, R. W. Cheever, W. A. Mayhew. A local telephone exchange was another matter brought before the meeting. A. V. Peters, H. A. Moehlenpach and A. S. Jeham were chosen as a committee to see about it.

Charles E. Greene, a former Clinton boy and a graduate of Beloit college, will be married to Miss Annie L. Axtell, of Evansville, on August 16. The next meeting of the Modern Woodmen, which will occur Tuesday evening, August 15, will be a gathering of unusual importance as four new members will be initiated. It is expected that a delegation from the Janesville camp will be present. A. S. Isham, the local agent for the McCormick Co. claims to have sold 73 mowers and binders this season. Not a bad record.

Mrs. Bliss, a former teacher in the schools here was visiting Clinton friends this week. A number of Bradford farmers have lately had their houses and barns thoroughly repaired and painted. Rev. Ellingwood of Oliveira, Iowa, was calling on old time friends last week. J. Q. Simons has secured the contract for the carpentry work on the L. L. Olds seed ware house. Work on the foundation will begin at once. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hamilton, Miss Jennie Hamilton and D. S. Hamilton leave this week for a trip on the great lakes. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellithorp of Decorah, Ia., are here on a vacation visit. Harry Johnson is in Chicago at present. Corwin Smith and Paul Hastings, we hear, went to Dakota last week.

HANOVER, Aug. 10.—Mrs. Charles Luchfield, who has been visiting relatives and friends in New Jersey for the last two months, has returned. Mrs. Mary Ehringer went to Chicago, Saturday, to spend a week visiting her son, Henry P. Ehringer. The Cycle club gave one of their half-night parties, Saturday evening, at the M. W. A. hall. A large and select company was present, and everyone had a very pleasant time. Ice cream and cake was served in the dining hall. Work is progressing rapidly on the cellar of the new store building of Ehringer & Brown. Haight & Seaman have the contract for digging the cellar and furnishing the stone. It begins to look as if we could cross our new bridge by Christmas. A delegation of Royal Neighbors visited Mr. and Mrs. Van Hise at their Happy Hollow home, recently, and were royally entertained. Mrs. J. S. Seidmore, Miss Mamie Blunk and Miss Lillie Fieblekorn returned to Janesville, Sunday, after a week's visit with relatives and friends here. Our night operator, A. D. Keedall, is again at his post after a short vacation for the benefit of his health. Miss Anna Kabka returned to Janesville this morning after a week's vacation. Mrs. D. A. Flint has just returned from a six weeks' visit in Iowa. D. O. Flint and J. Jackson with their families expect to move to Tennessee this fall. Miss Clara Rump, of Fort Wayne, Ind., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Muller. Rev. Worth of Janesville, organized a congregation here about two weeks ago. A minister will be called next Sunday to serve the church here and in Center. Scheel Bros. have commenced threshing. Rust and smut have reduced the yield of oats.

THREE BALL GAMES THIS WEEK

Local Y. M. C. A. Team Will Play Rockford, Watertown and Jefferson

The Y. M. C. A. base ball team went to Elkhorn at 11:30 a. m. today, where they meet the Rockford league team this afternoon. Tomorrow they play the second game of the series with Watertown at Fort Atkinson and on Saturday they cross bats with the team of Jefferson on the latter's ground. The team was never in better shape and they should win at least two of the three games scheduled. Adkins is desirous of going in the box against Underwood. Rockford's crack pitcher in the game today, but he will probably be saved for the contest with Watertown.

VALUABLE chickens belonging to S. Shawyan, 37 Ruger avenue, were killed by dogs yesterday. Mr. Shawyan warns the owners of these canines to keep them off his premises, or there will surely be a dog funeral in that neighborhood.

Dr. J. W. Stearns of Madison, addressed a good sized audience of teachers at the High school building last evening, his subject being "Our Country Schools." He proved himself to be a forceful speaker and a deep thinker, and his remarks were listened to with interest.

Last evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. VanAkin, 312 South Bluff street, occurred the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Elizabeth A. Van Akin to Rev. Arthur Adelbert Amy, of Baraboo, Wis. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. S. P. Wilder, of Delavan, Wis., in the presence of about sixty relatives and friends of the happy twain. The bride and groom were unattended. The parlor in which the ceremony was performed was made beautiful by a display of choice flowers. After congratulations had been extended a sumptuous wedding supper was served. The bride is a young lady admired by a large circle of friends for her charming manners. She is a vocalist of rare ability. The groom is a graduate of Yale college in the class of '99 and is a young man of much ability and promise. A FOOTVILLE SOCIAL EVENT

Twentieth Anniversary of the Marriage of Mr. and Mrs. L. U. Fisher.

A pleasant social event took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. U. Fisher, in Footville, it being the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of their marriage, and was attended by about seventy-five relatives and friends. A bounteous supper was served on the spacious lawn, and the evening was spent in the enjoyment of a well rendered musical program.

Mr. Fisher evidently considered it more blessed to give than receive as he refused to accept anything in the way of gifts from guests and took the occasion to present his daughter, Clara, with a fine "Sohmer Grand" piano. Among those who attended from this city were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ott, Supt. and Mrs. Wm. Ross and S. M. Fisher.

He was hurried to Chicago where he is now in a hospital receiving the best of care. His eyes are so swollen that they seem almost starting from his head. The doctors say that one eye may be saved but that it is hardly possible for sight to be restored to both.

E. J. Smith was called to Chicago two days ago and returned from the suffering boy's bedside last night.

ANDREW GIBSON HAS VERY NARROW ESCAPE

INJURED IN A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

While Engaged in Loading a Buggy Onto His Dray, His Horses Became Frightened—Saved By the Prompt Action of D. Wright—Badly Bruised, However.

Andrew Gibson of this city, had a narrow escape from death yesterday, in a runaway accident, and is wondering that he is alive to tell the tale. He is employed by Charles Schwartz, the drayman, and was engaged in loading a buggy onto his dray, at the transfer house of the Chicago & Northwestern railway. He had the buggy almost loaded, when the horses became frightened and started to run. Mr. Gibson attempted to gather up the lines which had fallen to the ground. In so doing he lost his balance and fell over the front of the wagon upon the whiffletree. He was in such a position that he could not regain the wagon and the horses were kicking him at every jump. The chances are that he would have been killed soon had not D. Wright, who was driving one of Fish's drays in front of the runaway taken prompt action. He saw the team coming and purposely swung his heavy truck into their path, jumping to the ground before the crash came. The runaway stopped and Gibson fell to the ground, one of the heavy wheels passing over his body. He was picked up and carried to the freight house and his brother, Dr. James Gibson, called. He found that no bones were broken though his whole body from head to foot was covered with severe bruises which will confine him to his bed for some time.

THE EXPOSURE OF LORD STANSFORD

BY
BARR.

But Miss Linderham hung up the receiver and did not listen to the recommendations the man was sending over the wire about his hired guests. The chances are that Maggie Linderham would have cried had it not been that her hair was so nicely yet carelessly done. But before she had time to make up her mind what to do the trim little maid came along the gallery and down the steps into the studio with a silver salver in her hand and on it a card. Miss Linderham picked up the card and read, "Richard Stansford."

"Oh!" she cried joyfully. "Ask him to come here."

"Won't you see him in the drawing room, miss?"

"No, no; tell him I am very busy, and bring him to the studio."

The maid went up the stair again. Miss Linderham, taking one long, careful glance at herself, looking over her shoulder in the long mirror, and not caring to touch her wealth of hair, picked up her crayon and began making the sketch of the striking man even worse than it was before. She did not look round until she heard Lord Stansford's step on the stair; then she gave an exclamation of surprise on seeing him. The young man was dressed in a wide awake hat and the costume which we see in the illustrated papers as picturing our friends in South Africa. All he needed was a belt of cartridges and a rifle to make the picture complete.

"This is hardly the dress a man is supposed to wear in London when he makes an afternoon call on a lady, Miss Linderham," said the young man, with a laugh, "but I had either to come this way or not at all, for my time is very limited. I thought it was too bad to leave the country without giving you an opportunity to apologize for your conduct last night and for the additional insult of hiring me for two hours this afternoon. And so, you see, I came."

"I am very glad you did," replied Miss Linderham. "I was much disappointed when they telephoned me this afternoon that you had resigned. I must say that you look exceedingly well in that outfit, Lord Stansford."

"I thought it was a long distance away," said the girl.

"Yes," said the young man, casting a glance over himself. "I must admit that it is rather becoming. I have had the pleasure of attracting a good deal of attention as I came along the street."

"They took you for a cowboy, I suppose?"

"Well, something of that sort. The small boy, I regret to say, was so unfeeling as to sing 'He's got ee on' and other ribald ditties of that kind, which they seem to think suited the occasion. But others looked at me with great respect, which compensated for the disadvantages. Will you pardon the rudeness of a pioneer, Miss Linderham, when I say that you look even more charming in the studio dress than you did in ball costume, and I never thought that could be possible?"

"Oh!" cried the girl, flushing, perhaps because the crimson paint on her palette she had picked up reflected on her cheek. "You must excuse this working garb, as I did not expect visitors. You see, they telephoned to me that you were not coming."

The deluded young man actually thought this statement was correct, which in part it was, and he believed also that the luxuriant hair tossed up here and there with seeming carelessness was not the result of an art far superior to any the girl herself had ever put upon canvas.

"So you are off to South Africa?" she said.

"Yes, the Cape."

"Oh, is the Cape in South Africa?"

"Well, I think so," replied the young man, somewhat dubiously, "but I wouldn't be certain about it, though the steamship company guarantees to land me at the Cape, wherever it is."

The girl laughed.

"You must have given it a great deal of thought," she said, "when you don't really know where you are going."

"Oh, I have a better idea of direction than you give me credit for! I am not such a fool as I looked last night, you know. Then I belonged to Spink & Co., and was sublet by them to old Heckle; now I belong to myself and South Africa. That makes a world of difference, you know."

"I see it does," replied Miss Linderham. "Won't you sit down?"

REVIVAL OF THE POKE.

The Old Style Bonnet Is Now the Newest Thing in Millinery.

I think we shall all like the new bonnets and hats. Much ink has been wasted ridiculing them, but then that is how space writers make their living, and women pay very little attention to such things. If anything, it seems to fix them still firmer in their likings. That is woman's nature, and in some instances it is a good thing that it is. The poke bonnet is here to stay—that is, if it is fastened so firmly to the head that all the breezes of Newport cannot pull it off. The original shape of a poke is a very large round flat, with a high crown, sometimes tipped forward and sometimes in a sugar loaf form. The brim is then bent far down at the sides, cut away in a half moon at the back or with that portion bent back upon the rest. This brings the front up as high above the face as the brim will allow.

The rest is a matter of taste and the milliner's art. Some of them have wreaths of roses all around the wider side of the brim, and others have a crape facing drawn smoothly over the surface, and some are shirred, while others have rows of black velvet milliner folds. It is optional whether the brim shall be left in the natural curve or bent and indented.

The prettiest and richest trimming is plumes in bunches. Flowers are used. So are ribbons and in fact all sorts of things. With all of the poke shapes strings are worn, tied under the chin. These may be narrow velvet or wide taffeta ribbon, whichever proves more becoming.

For "runabouts" there is a very chic little hat called the Newport. It is particularly well adapted to the requirements of that spirited place. The brim is flat and as round as a dollar. The crown is about three inches high and is in bell shape. That gives an opportunity for a very novel trimming—viz, a narrow band of black velvet, with a quill in front curling around the brim, standing upward or outward in sharp defiance of wind, fog or sun. And they have all these in abundance at Newport. A little ribbon bow in front or a great daring rosette is often added.

A toque for that favored spot, for carriage or for any other very dressy function, aside from a lawn party, is rice straw, turned up all around like a close turban with a low round crown. This has one immense fawn colored quill trained round the crown to the left side, while on the right one there is a large moss green velvet windmill rosette with a fancy jeweled clasp in the center. There is one row of velvet around the crown, partially hidden under the brim.

I may say that while plumes are always elegant, summer and winter, there are places where they are a delusion and a snare and an abject misery, and Newport is one. The damp sea air takes all the stiffness and curl out of them, and they look draggled, like a wet rooster. I think I heard that some new method has been discovered by which they can resist dampness.

That reminds me to say a word about muslins and all light washable attire. A strong solution of alum, water added to the rinsing water will make all cotton and linen goods fireproof. It can be added without injury, and the colors look brighter. The cloth irons even better than without it. I use a pound of alum to four gallons of water, and boil it until it is dissolved. It costs but 10 cents and it is a great satisfaction to know one is fireproof. If curtains were treated in the same way there would be many less fires.

So far there is not much bathing at Newport. Society has not all reached there, and it will still be some days before they settle down for the gay days for which it is so famous. But there are some pretty suits waiting for the proper time to come. They are so scant, however, that they are hardly worth speaking of.

One suit for a young lady whose name is known the wide world over was made in France. It is of deep red and white striped taffeta and is all in one piece. The trousers portion reaches just to the knees, and there is a band of white silk over buckram, which draws them in a little, somewhat like Turkish trousers. Over this is a design of arabesques done in fine black silk soutache. The upper part is in form of a blouse, with a belt and front plait of the white braided to match. There is a white sailor collar wrought in the same way. It opens down, V shaped in front. This is not much to look at without the wearer inside of it, but when she with her red slippers and black silk stockings gets into it the whole thing becomes a dream.

Another pretty suit was of white mohair, with a blouse and short skirt over the trousers, which were not gathered. There was very dark blue narrow ribbon on all the edges and on the sailor collar.

"I have allowed my private expressions to be widely published because I consider it my duty to let every one know what wonderful relief, comfort and health they can find in 'Orangeine.' Thus replied LADY STANLEY, the wife of the great explorer, to an inquiring American in London last week.

Lady Stanley Wrote:

"The 'Orangeine' powders I think are wonderful and I should not like ever to be without 'Orangeine' for an emergency, such as having a severe headache and feeling tired out. I wish the powders could be got in England, but I am glad to enclose the equivalent for $3.75, for which kindly send me more packets."

Dear Sir: I took home sample of "Orangeine." My wife was suffering with severe headache, "nearly crazy," to use her own expression. I said to her: "Here's a sample of something it says it's good for headache. Want to try it?" She says: "Yes, try anything, can't make it worse." She was on sofa with her head done up. Say, in fifteen minutes that headache was gone and she was around all right. That was two weeks ago and she has had none since. Simply wonderful. God bless "Orangeine!" Yours,

KAISER'S MOUNTED AMAZONS.

Cavalry Regiment of Lithuanian Girls to Guard Him During Hunting Season.

By Gertrude Hall Forbes

When Emperor William goes to enjoy the hunting season in Prussia, which he will do as soon as the yachting season closes, he will be received by a regiment of 500 cavalry women. They are Lithuanian girls and are now organizing to receive the Kaiser. The regiment will be known as the Imperial Mounted Women volunteers, and of a more unique body of troops no sovereign in the world can boast.

The homes of these cavalry amazons are in the district which lies far in the north of the empire, between the Baltic, Russia and Poland. They are of the race that became famous under the Jagellons.

The idea of forming a regiment is one which the Lithuanian girls originated themselves. When they made their proposition to the officials of their province, they said:

"We make one condition—our duke (meaning the Kaiser) must have no other bodyguard. During the time of his stay in our country we want to be his soldiers. We will garrison his castle, will 'beat' the game for him, will attend him on his trips around the country and see him safely home when he decides to return."

Count Bismarck communicated with the emperor's court marshal to find out whether the offer would prove acceptable. The court marshal wrote:

"It all depends on the girls. Go and look them over."

So his excellency invited his fair petitioners to meet him at Trakehnen, the celebrated horse farm, and at the same time arranged with the governor of the place for the use of a hall. But if the hall had been as big as Madison Square Garden it couldn't have accommodated the assembly, for every one of the 600 volunteers came on horseback, many bringing led horses, and all insisted upon attending the council seated on their chargers.

There was an open air meeting then, and Count Bismarck, who is already a little stiff in his joints, had to mount a blooded horse, despite his rheumatism, and make a speech from the saddle. President Hegel of the Gumbinnen district translated the address into the old Prussian tongue, for the Lithuanians do not understand German, and an exchange of views followed, with this result:

"The provincial government accepts the services of the Lithuanian women, with a view of selecting from them 500 to make up a regiment. The regiment is to be uniformed in the national dress of the country and select its own officers, subject to the approval of the president of the district. Members of the regiment furnish their own horses, and each officer or sub-officer is entitled to have a led horse. The horse may be put out to grass on the royal estates, but oats must be provided by its owner."

"The name and style of the regiment is Imperial Mounted Women volunteers. Its members are entitled to the ordinary soldier's mess, but receive no pay."

Then the native women gave an impromptu exhibition of their horsemanship, and, after a drink of "mead," a strong fermented liquor made of honey and water, richly spiced, scampered off.

They have been drilling under their helmets twice a week ever since; and as these helms have invariably seen military service either as privates or noncommissioned officers, they are well able to teach the girls their business. Of late Count Bismarck ordered reviews of the different squadrons to be held under the guidance of officers of the cavalry reserves. The reviewing officers agree that they never met with recruits exhibiting so much intelligence and skill in the handling of horses and in obeying signals. Every second girl or woman would make an efficient "fugelman," they cried enthusiastically.

These Lithuanian women scramble upon a pony as soon as their legs are long enough to hold on; they learn to tend large herds of cattle before they know their prayers, and they can wield a three yard whip sooner than a cooking spoon. They wouldn't think of mounting a horse save to straddle it.
